

Would you like to participate in a Focus Group sponsored by the
MIT Media Laboratory?

We are building personal wearable sensor interfaces specifically for people on the autism spectrum, and we'd like your help.

You'll be shown a demonstration of the interface and asked to give your opinion, as well as to tell some stories about how your own interests might work with the sensor. You'll be in a group with 4-5 other people. This will all take place online in an anonymous audio-only Zoom meeting, led by a researcher. It will take approximately 30 minutes.

If you have Level 1 ASD diagnosis, you qualify for our study.

You will receive a $25 VISA card for your participation.

Please contact Jocelyn Scheirer at 617 515 6921 or rise@media.mit.edu if you are interested in participating.
