

From one generation to the next, how does autism affect you and your family?

If you are the sibling of someone with autism and you have a child of your own between the ages of 6-18 months, you and your child may be eligible to participate in this research study!

Participation will involve:

- Developmental monitoring of your child's social behavior, cognitive skills, language, and motor skills
- Up to 4 in-person or virtual visits

Participants will receive:

- Written feedback on the child's performance on assessment tasks
- Up to $200 in Amazon gift cards
